SKOKIE LIBRARY VISITS ARIE CROWN

Dave Nelson from the Skokie Public Library visited the 3rd and 4th grade English Library classes last week to discuss favorite books with the children. He introduced ten books and gave a short summary of each. Mr. Nelson's presentation was entertaining and interesting and encouraged the children to check out the books from our library. In the spring, eligible students (those who have read a least three of the books) will be able to vote for their favorite. We enjoyed having Mr. Nelson visit our youngsters.

Rosh Chodesh Breakfast #2

After being served some delicious bagel and cream cheese sandwiches (don't forget the frozen orange juice), the boys were treated to a beautiful story by alumnus, Rabbi Tzvi Zimmerman, the Mashgiach of Skokie Yeshiva. The story centered around this month's M.A.P. Middah of saying brachos properly. The boys walked away satisfied and motivated to properly say brachos before and after a meal. Thank you, Rabbi Zimmerman, for taking time off of your busy schedule to inspire us in the M.A.P. middah.

Boys' Student Council Update: What bracha is made on avocado? What about cranberries or papaya? Well how about on kumquat (what in the world is that!) Look out for our fruit Bracha Bee in honor of Tu B'Shevat.

In tict vrun's 7th grade girls' class, it is only half-way through the year and we all can speak Ivrit! This week in Mrs. Abowitz's 7th grade girls' class, we improved our vocabulary in Ivrit by reading the story ohj t kaul ka. This was a oshxj rpx, and we learned kfav rxun from it not to ruin or disturb what belongs to others because one day it might be ours too. We also learned that the easiest way isn't always the best way, and that we should be considerate for others.

Health Corner

Winter is here, which means furnaces are on, fireplaces are crackling and ovens are baking. Do YOU know the difference between two potentially toxic gasses in your house?

Natural gas is the general term for a fuel that is piped into many households to appliances like ovens, furnaces, water heaters, clothes dryers. Natural gas is mostly methane, along with some ethane, propane and other assorted "-ane" gases. It works as a poison by decreasing the amount of O₂ your body takes in when you breathe. Basically, if natural gas leaks into the air, it takes up the space of O₂. The more gas in the air, the less O₂ in the air and the less oxygen to your brain and heart... So natural gas getting into your body itself is really not the problem, but rather it's the decrease of oxygen getting into your body that is the problem. Natural gas is invisible and odorless, but it reeks of rotten eggs due to a chemical that the gas company adds to it so that people can tell when there is a leak in their house. Exposures to natural gas can occur if there is a leak in a gas-line or a pilot light is out.

Carbon Monoxide (CO) is a substance produced from the combustion (burning) of carbon based substances. Most things in our homes are "carbon-based substances": wood, paper, coal, cloth, etc. Natural gas contains carbon too. That's why faulty or improperly ventilated furnaces or clothes dryers can result in CO in your house. Gasoline is another carbon substance so car exhaust is also associated with CO poisoning.

CO is poisonous because when you breathe it in to your lungs, it actually binds to your red blood cells and prevents those cells from carrying O₂ to your needy organs. CO is odorless and invisible, which is why it is so important to have a working CO detector in your home.

NEVER use the oven or the stove as a source of heat.

Ultimately, both of these nasty gases affect the amount of oxygen getting to your brain and heart, so the symptoms are similar: drowsiness, headache, nausea, dizziness, and shortness of breath in lower exposures; and vomiting, confusion, coma, seizures and death in bad cases. When you don't get enough oxygen you suffocate.

As with all potentially poisonous substances, the amount of gas and length of exposure is going to determine how sick someone can get. If you think you have a gas leak or if your carbon monoxide detector is beeping get out of the house and call 911 (from a neighbor).

To reach a poison control expert call IPC at 1-800-222-1222.

Wow! I am so proud of my Kittah Daled girls! Their hard work in learning Hoveh is really paying off! Their Chumash skills are supercalafragalistic...! I am so proud of all your accomplishments!

Love, Mrs. Litwack

P.S. I love hearing you sing your amazing Erev Shira songs!

Baruch Habah B'Sheim Hashem! In Mrs. Dubovick's 4th grade class we just started practicing for Erev Shira and we are learning GREAT songs! We had a Rosh Chodesh store with amazing prizes and Mrs. Dubovick gave us cute stickers for the starting of winter! In Chumash we sped it up and we're in the middle of Parshas Va'eira already! It was Open House on Monday and parents, grandparents, aunts and uncles came to watch us learn. We are learning so many new subjects and surely enjoying it, too! The main part is that we had an AMAZING week! Have a good Shabbos!

This week in Mrs. Greenberger's 3rd grade girls' class, we had Open House in Hebrew and English. Mrs. Greenberger added new Chumash cards. Shayna and Talia were the Mystery Girls, and we got bouncy balls and stickers from them. We started learning Shemona Esrei through Be'ur Tefillah. We took a Chumash test on Tuesday. We regret that we haven't learned more because of Erev Shira, but we are proud of what we have accomplished so far and hope to learn more in the future. Have a good Shabbos!

Early Childhood

The Pre-Nursery and Nursery classrooms are enjoying the gymnastics season in gym with Morah Judy. Many stretching skills that we have been working on from the beginning of the year till now are being put to work as we use our muscles and coordination to focus on balance, tumbling and more gymnastics fun each week!

Morah Judy

Over the cold winter months when outdoor play can be limited...

The Early Childhood has been enjoying a variety of movement activities provided by local community facilities and organizations.

So far, we have enjoyed a music and movement class, a dynamic dance and performing arts class, a lively recycling program, and more!

Stay tuned as we look forward to February's movement fun as we welcome a local martial arts teacher in for a free class, The Urban Dance Center for some movement fun and more!

A Special thank you to Harmonious Horizons, North Shore Dance Company, The Skokie Library, and Ecominders Recycling Program for your wonderful presentations and fun interactive classes! This has been a fun way to dance and groove through our winter season!

Book Club Update

This week's Book Club Theme is Hibernation. The children enjoyed looking at a few items on loan from the Harris Loan Foundation to enhance this theme.

Books we read this week in class:

"Hibernation" - By: Mel Higginson

"What Will I Do Without You?" - By Sally Grindley and Penny Dann

"Old Bear" - By: Kevin Henkes

"We're Going on a Bear Hunt" - By: Michael Rosen

A special thank you to our early childhood parent volunteers Becky Langer, Mindy Lebovics, and Tzivia Allswang who assisted with our early childhood gym class this week. We appreciate you lending a helping hand! If you are interested in getting involved in other volunteer opportunities in the early childhood, please email -Ellen Rashkow at ellenrashkow@gmail.com or Ayelle Schudy at aschudy@gmail.com for more information!

This week in Mrs. Kaplan's 6th grade boys' class, we continued in Ancient Egypt after finishing our sugar cube pyramids. We made Egyptian cartouches with our names on them. A cartouche is an Egyptian pendant/ID Tablet. Have a good Shabbos!

By Josh Polster

In Mrs. Bohmbach's 5th grade boys' class, we have been working and showing our power points. In math we have been learning fractions. We have been digging even deeper in the Book of Holes. We have been playing a lot of football. There has been a lot of ice and on it we have been slipping and sliding like penguins. In Rabbi Spector's class we have been learning a lot of lessons.

By Ezra Kolsky and Yitzy Wilens

In Mrs. Astor and Rabbi Zuckerman's 4th grade boys' class, we enjoyed using our SMART Board to learn how hurricanes and tornadoes form. Also, in the past few weeks we learned division and subtraction. In Rabbi Zuckerman's class we finished Parshas Shemos!

By Yehuda A. Carlsen and Benny Cohen

This week in Mrs. Whisler's 4B class we continued roller blading in gym. We also learned about Haikus. It was too warm to study ice crystals outside, so we made snowflakes in class. Also in Rabbi Levinson's we learned 3 new mishnas. In Chumash we are in the pesukim that tell about the makkos. We had Mrs. Edelman as our substitute for one day. Due to the ice many people have gotten hurt we wish them a refuah shelaima. And a good Shabbos to you all.

By Ami Strick and Tzadok Cohen and the rest of Mrs. Whisler's 4B class

This week in Mrs. Camras' 3rd grade girls' class, we had a birthday party for Shayna Vadnai and Tamar Kohn. We also made spider webs which are displayed in the front hall. At Open House the parents did Math Wheel with us. We learned some more multiplication facts. We played a game of Around the World and Rebecca Levinson won. We had a blast this week!

Reported by Sarah Levinson and Abby Merzel

Things have been very busy in Mrs. Nussbaum's 3rd grade boys' class! We have been working on a wonderful Science unit. We learned about measurements, temperature, graphing and more. We've used scales, weights and thermometers. Everyone enjoyed learning and did a great job. In math, we are working very hard learning multiplication and division. In reading we just finished "Moses Goes to a Concert". It was about a boy who was deaf and how he used sign language. We learned to sign some phrases ourselves. In Social Studies we studied Martin Luther King Jr. We made great bookmarks with information about him. We also watched a movie about his life as a child. We also continue to write responses to books we are reading in our Reading Response journals. Of course, everyone is enjoying roller skating in gym, too (thanks to the moms who have been helping out in gym! Have a nice Shabbos!

We were so happy to see our parents and grandparents on Monday (Open School Day). We did a packet on Phonics, and the Real Math. We are learning about money. We had a GREAT TIME! Thank you for visiting.

Room 303

We enjoyed having parents visit our classroom on Open School Day. We had fun making chains with long-a words. One girl made 42 links. We are working hard on addition facts. Sometimes we do mental math, too. Rollerskating is cool. We made a cake with a wheel of long-a words. We are learning lots of things.

By Room 305, Mrs. Brooks' Class

8th Grade Boys' Basketball Team Update: The team is 2-1 after Tuesday night's 38-28 victory over Fairview. This followed a 53-35 win over Old Orchard last Thursday, and a thrilling one-point loss (52-51) to Hillel Torah in December. The team's next game is next Thursday, Jan. 28 at Hillel

Torah.
