Health Corner

About 32% of kids and teens are considered overweight or obese — an alarming statistic that should be a “wake up call” for parents. Yet a 2008 study found that many parents had no idea that their kids were considered obese.

With childhood obesity rates on the rise, many researchers are looking to see whether overweight kids, like adults, are at risk for certain heart and blood vessel diseases. They found that obesity could indeed put kids on the road to developing cardiovascular diseases later in life — and at a younger age than these diseases affected previous generations. Research shows kids are also increasingly getting all kinds of typically adult obesity-linked conditions, like type 2 diabetes, hypertension (high blood pressure), unhealthy cholesterol levels, etc.

Researchers urge parents and doctors to be more aggressive in weight management for kids who are obese. The key to keeping kids of all ages at a healthy weight is taking a whole-family approach. It's the "practice what you preach" mentality. Make healthy eating and exercise a family affair.

Tips to keep in mind:

- * Don't reward kids for good behavior with sweets or treats but at the same time don't completely eliminate all sweets and favorite snacks from kids' diets.
- * Encourage a healthy lifestyle that includes plenty of regular exercise and a nutritious diet with lots of fruits, vegetables, whole grains, lean meats, and calcium-rich foods and limited amounts of saturated fat, refined flour and sugar.
- * Limit screen time (TV, movies, computer, video games) to no more than 2 hours of quality programming a day for kids over age 2.
- * Don't maintain a clean-plate policy. Let kids follow their own hunger cues and reinforce the idea that they should only eat when they're hungry.

If you eat well, exercise regularly, and incorporate healthy habits into your family's daily life, you're modeling a healthy lifestyle for your kids. Talk to them about the importance of eating well and being active, but make it a family affair that will become second nature for everyone.

M.A.P. Update

Keep on saying those brachos properly. I was extremely excited to see the overwhelming response to this month's middah. The middah of “Saying Brachos with Intention” will run until Pesach. There will be another raffle drawn in about one week. The following students were chosen in this past raffle.

Please see me on Friday, Feb. 26, for your 2 slices of pizza:

Bentzi Azose	Ashira Domsky
Yehuda Zev Dubovick	Devorah Frank
Yonah Goldberg	Daniella Friedman
Tuvia Goldstein	Meira Greenland
Ari Greenfield	Rebecca Levinson
Eli Greer	Rivka Loeb
Yonah Jacobson	Chana Lopin
Yitzy Schwimmer
Noam Skidelsky

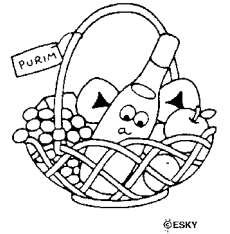

Rabbi Pomerantz

After spending the week learning the importance of saying Brachos on food, P'tach celebrated with a Brachos Party. The children have been eager to recite their brachos out loud. P'tach will continue to implement the brachos project. We are looking forward to our next Brachos Party.

P'tach Staff

Connections Israel: In preparation for Purim, the Kindergarten classes and the First and Second graders sent letters and pictures to Israeli soldiers to wish them a Happy Purim and to thank them for protecting Israel. At the Purim carnival on Sunday, there will be a booth set up to collect money to send Mishloach Manot to Israeli soldiers through the organization Connection Israel. Each Mishloach Manot costs $10, but all donations are accepted. See you Sunday.

Even though a week has passed
Remember your
Excitement is sure to last
Very incredible

Smiles from ear to ear
Happily singing
It was the highlight of the year
Reaching for the “highest heights”, we will Always be striving for.

P.S. You left the audience in happy tears, hoping you would sing more! I am so proud of my shining stars!
You blew me away!!

Love, Mrs. Greenberger

Boys' Student Council Happenings

Color War break-out was done in style, even though it didn't really fool anyone. The Student Council/Color War captains came out of the limo full of ruach and energy and that ruach carried through the entire color war! Rabbi Samber, Rabbi Robinson, Mrs. Feiger and Mrs. Wigoda were impressed with the achdus displayed by both teams of Ahavas Yisroel and Gemilus Chassadim. The marches, songs and chants were creative and fun to watch. The theme songs masterly produced by Rabbi Aharon Cohen and Rabbi Sherman were sung so beautifully, I was crying! (thank you both for lending your talents to color war). Well, one team needed to win, even though it was quite close. It was Touch Bowl which pushed the team of Yellow-Black Ahavas Yisroel ahead. Job well done, captains and excellent job to all our Geshmock 5-8th graders!

Rabbi S. Pomerantz

New: Write a short paragraph on “The Thing I liked Most about Color War 2010 was...” All submissions will be in a raffle. Hand in completed submissions to Rabbi Pomerantz by Wednesday.

Wow! We are so excited to be jumping into the world of amazing Rashis and Midrashim on the 10 makkot! You too should look into Shemot (beginning in Perek 7) to prepare yourself for your Pesach seder! We are also learning a very cute Purim story about a Mishloach Manot that mysteriously appeared. We can't wait to find out the ending! Our Purim learning is in full swing! The packet in our Chaggim binder is a lot of fun and very educational. We are so excited to make our yummy Purim project next week! Have a good Shabbos!

Love, Mrs. Litwack's 4th grade girls

Early Childhood

After much discussion and debate about teeth and the tooth fairy, K109 and K108 were very happy to welcome Dr. David Margulis DDS. into our classrooms to answer our many questions. Why are teeth white? Why do we need to brush? What's the best tasting toothpaste? Have you met the tooth fairy? Etc... Dr. Margulis came with x-rays, masks, gloves and many toothbrushes, which each child was able to take one home. He taught us how to clean and avoid cavities. Thank you Dr. Margulis for visiting our classrooms and telling us about what the important job dentists do in our community.

This week's Book Club Theme was about Building Friendships. Titles enjoyed in class:

"Alicia's Best Friends" by Lisa Jahn-Clough
 "How to Lose All Your Friends" by Nancy Carlson
 "How Are You Peeling?" by Saxton Freymann
 "That's What Friends Are For" by Florence Parry Heide
 "Ben Finds A Friend" by Anne-Marie Chapouton
 "That Toad is Mine!" by Barbara Shook Hazen
 "Slow Days, Fast Friends" by Erik Brooks

Mrs. Avner

In Mrs. Popper's 4th grade girls' class we've been learning a TON in math, grammar, spelling, and much more. We started oral reports about animals. So far everyone did a fantastic job this week. Mrs. Howerton came; she is blind and she told us very interesting stuff. She said that if she would be able to see she wouldn't want to. We recently planted plants and they are soooo big. They grew, but didn't flower. We had a wonderful week!!

By Michal Feiler and Aniel Goldberg

Dear Arie Crown community: We would like to thank Mrs. Steiner for bringing Lucy, her dog, and telling us about service dogs and their visits to libraries and nursing homes. We are working to clean up our immediate environment – our classroom. We started a new basketball unit in gym. Politics continued to be discussed. With Rebbe, we learned three mishnas by Tuesday. After recess, there were many human snowmen – we mean, students covered in snow – entering the building. It helps if everyone wipes off their boots on the carpet mats in the halls before entering a classroom. We brainstormed about the dangers of snowball throwing, solutions for a safer recess, and how we can help the younger students. We wish everyone a good Shabbos!

By Tzadok Cohen, Ami Strick,
and the rest of Mrs. Whisler's 4B class

Dear Readers: In Rabbi Levinson's 4th grade boys' class, we started learning Perek Daled, and we finished Parshas Va'eira. Rebbe told us that it will be time for another raffle soon. In Mrs. Whisler's class, we are going to learn about oceanography. We wrote arguments about hybrid cars and learned about fuel. Mrs. Howerton and her guide dog, Mary Jane, visited us from the Hadley School for the Blind. She talked about how she got around before and after she adopted Mary Jane. Mrs. Howerton demonstrated her "magical" typewriter and stylus tool that punched out her words in Braille. She read from a book that had Braille and standard writing. We received goody bags that included a Braille bookmark that had the Braille alphabet, riddles, a book about Louis Braille and more. We look forward to our biography book reports. Next week, we will participate in our school's mini-Olympics and will represent Norway. Wish us luck! Have a freilichin' Shabbos and a Shabbos shalom.

By Eli Harris, Ari Kamish
and the rest of Mrs. Whisler's 4B class

We celebrated the 100th Day of school yesterday. Some of us brought 100 things to school, like seashells, papers, crayons, and 100 toothpicks. Our teachers gave us a special treat and special stickers. We even each got a booklet on the 100th Day.

Mrs. Ozmina's Room 303

Thank you to the girls in grades 3-5 for participating in the Haiti raffle. We really appreciate it. We would like to say thank you to Mrs. Levitan and Mrs. Dimbert for their endless help and enthusiasm. Thank you to all the girls who donated prizes. Special thanks to Chaya Gertsberg and Marli Gutman for keeping us on track. Thanks to everyone.

By Tamar Dimbert and Hannah Levitan

Hey Rabbi Cohen! Great job on Color War! We weren't surprised that you won – especially with that winning song!

Love, your Fan Club!

To our dear SHOSHI LOPIN: You are a star dancer, we love watching you! I loved your special bow. We're so proud of you always.

CHANA: You were great at Erev Shira! Keep singing and smiling. You give us so much nachas!

Love, Abba and Eema

Rabbi Samber: Thank you for your continued guidance you give for EACH of our kids! (Current and graduates, too) We appreciate ALL you do! Continued Hatzlacha.

Sincerely, Yaakov and Aviva Lopin

With tremendous hakoras hatov to all of the outstanding moros who dedicated so much of their time and talents to making Erev Shira so special! Thank you all for being such wonderful role models for them and for making it all possible!

David and Brooke Warso

Thank you, Rabbi Samber and all of the administration, for the opportunity that each girl has to be a part of Erev Shira. It is a very special gift that they are able to be a part of something that supports and encourages their self-expression and creativity in such a caring and nurturing environment. With tremendous hakoras hatov,

David and Brooke Warso
To our wonderful Mr. Katz! You shine inside and out! We love you!

To my precious sister, Ayala. Congrats on an awesome job at your final ACHDS Erev Shira. I enjoyed the show so much.

Love Aliza

Kol HaKavod to the morot, school staff, girls in grades 3-8, and especially the wonderful head of props. Erev Shira was outstanding.

Leah & Alan Cohen

To all of the extremely talented and dedicated Morot: We were so lucky to have had the chance to work with you and learn from your talents. Thanks for all of the tireless work and valuable time that you put into allowing us to shine on stage at Erev Shira!

Rayli, Ahuva, and Abby Merzel

Girls: You were FANTASTIC on stage at your Erev Shira!
Abby: Your enthusiasm and beautiful singing on stage made us smile from our seats.

Ahuva: Wow! You are quite a dancer! We felt your contagious smile and energy as you danced on stage! Nice job!

Rayli: Your leadership, patience, and dedication to your dances made us so proud! Watching your choreography made us smile from our seats! Your endless energy made us flip! You really shined – literally!! Where IS that hat?!

Abby, Ahuva, Rayli – We are so proud!

Mommy, Chava, Daniella and Bubby
(Of course Abba and the boys would have been proud too!)

To "The Boss" and "Little A"-we are so extremely proud of the wonderful job you and your classmates did for Erev Shira! You are both amazing, and only bring us much nachat. Keep smiling, laughing, and shining! Yashar Kochem also to all the Morot, Administration, and girls who made this one of the best Erev Shirot we have ever seen! Thank you for all of your tremendous efforts.
